Association offices of the Ruhr Regional Association (RVR), (headquarters since 1927)
The Ruhr Regional Association was founded in 1920 as Ruhr Coal District Municipal Association with its registered office in Essen. A multipurpose institution was thus founded, linking together the whole Ruhr area. The RVR still fulfills this important function today.

The aim of the RVR is to promote polycentricity as a unique selling point of the Ruhr Metropolis, and to pool its forces regionally where it delivers an advantage.

As a public institution, it unites the eleven cities and four districts of the Ruhr area. With its statutory tasks, it serves the interests of the Ruhr Metropolis in a wide range of ways. The Association is financed by contributions from its members, and its projects are supported with funds from the state, the Federal...
Government and the EU.

The decision-making bodies of the RVR are the General Meeting of the Association, the Association Committee and the Regional Director. Within the framework of the regional planning for the Ruhr area, the General Meeting of the Association performs the tasks of the Regional Council. The Regional Director is the Regional Planning Authority.
The work of the RVR is controlled by the General Meeting of the Association, also known as the Ruhr Parliament.

At the Ruhr Metropolis municipal elections 2020, for the first time, the members of the General Meeting of the Association are directly elected for five years by the members of the public. The General Meeting of the Association forms multiple technical committees for its work. An important advisory committee for the three bodies of the association, and a connecting link to the RVR member municipalities, is the Municipal Council. It consists of the Lord Mayors and District Commissioners of the Ruhr area.
The political decisions are implemented by the administration.

Around 500 employees work at RVR, of whom 59 percent are women and 41 percent men. They are divided into divisions, departments, teams and the Municipal Undertaking RVR Ruhr Grün.

The budget is just under EUR 107 million (2020).

As a modern public employer, RVR has trainee programmes for a wide range of professions. It utilises various approaches to promote the compatibility of family and work (e.g.: mobile working, parent-child offices, child daycare facilities).

... as networker
We bring decades-long projects to the region, such as the “Europian Capital of Culture RUHR.2010” and the “International Garden Exhibition IGA Ruhr Metropolis 2027”.
We create and safeguard attractive regional infrastructure such as the Industrial Heritage Trail, the Ruhr Cycling Region, and the Ruhr area parks, and stage highlights such as the slag heap landscape.
We present the modern Ruhr Metropolis and provide information, start campaigns and organise events.
Wenn, dann hier.
And one more thing:

We are also one of the largest municipal forest owners in Germany.
